Contribution ID: 590 Contribution code: FP-05 Type: Featured Presentation

Publishing in English Language Teaching Academic Journals

Saturday, 27 July 2024 17:05 (50 minutes)

English Teaching Forum is a quarterly journal supporting the teaching of English around the world through the publication of innovative, practical ideas. It is published by the U.S. Department of State. Over 60,000 copies of the journal are distributed in more than 100 countries. The publication accepts submissions from English language teachers around the world and most of the authors published in English Teaching Forum are classroom teachers. Join the Editor-in-Chief of the English Teaching Forum to learn how editors choose and review articles for publication. Get practical tips on how to submit your work and find out what happens behind the scenes. Whether you're new to publishing or want to improve your skills, this session gives you inside knowledge from the editorial review board. Don't miss this chance to understand the process and contribute to English language teaching discussions globally.

Online Profile

N/A

Biography

Tom Glass is Editor-in-Chief of English Teaching Forum, a journal for teachers that is published by the U.S. Department of State. Before working on Forum, he taught EFL and ESL for more than 20 years. He holds a Ph.D. from Purdue University, in the United States. In his free time, he enjoys trying to write fiction. Now he lives in Bangkok with his wife and son.

Primary author: GLASS, Tom (U. S. Department of State)

Presenter: GLASS, Tom (U. S. Department of State)

Session Classification: Featured Presentations

Track Classification: Keynote and Featured Presentations